

IMO HMI Operator Interfaces Now at FactoryMation

FactoryMation and IMO Offer iView HMI Operator Interfaces

Canton, GA – January 12, 2017 – FactoryMation has introduced new HMI Operator Interfaces from IMO Precision Controls. These HMI Operator Interfaces come in two varieties: M Series and H Series. Both series feature the following: Data storage via MicroSD or USB, Built-in FTP file transfer functionality for remote download, e-mail alerts, and remote control and monitoring. All models are IP66-rated and utilize the free iView Developer programming software. Using iView Developer software, users can program remotely, simulate their programs, and utilize thousands of built-in graphics or else import their own. In addition to these extensive features, the H Series includes an aluminum bezel, 4x processing speed, and 32x system memory. Certain models in the H series also allow for audio and video playback. Available model sizes include 4.3”, 7”, 10.4”, 12.1”, and 15”. Starting at $389, the IMO HMI operator interface is just another example of FactoryMation’s commitment to offering an unmatched value for industrial control and automation products.
